

Sometimes the Simplest of Gestures Mean the Most

- ✓ Recognize employees for work well done
- ✓ Focus on accomplishments that mean the most to the organization
- ✓ Motivate employees during times of change
- ✓ Complement other reward programs

Sometimes the Simplest of Gestures Mean the Most

Motivation and Recognition – two very powerful tools that every supervisor and manager should use regularly and sincerely. Employees want to know that their efforts, their accomplishments, and their successes do not go unnoticed.

Finding a simple, yet effective way to both motivate and recognize employees without a high price tag attached is challenging.

AWARDS can help.

Department managers and supervisors are often urged to find cost-conscious (and effective) recognition, incentive, and motivation programs that are flexible enough to meet the short-term and long-term needs of their organization. Without access to large budgets or organization-wide implementation resources, many very effective incentive programs are simply not feasible at the departmental level.

AWARDS is different.

AWARDS is designed for flexibility. AWARDS is a recognition program that can be used by a single department manager or in conjunction with an established organization-wide incentive program. AWARDS allows a manager to give periodic employee recognition, focusing on those items that mean the most to the department and the organization.

Over 80 awards cover a wide range of topics

AWARDS topics include:

- ✓ Achieving goals
- ✓ Surpassing goals
- ✓ Meeting deadlines
- ✓ Completing projects
- ✓ “Going the extra mile”
- ✓ Plus many more

Use AWARDS for a full year at the cost of less than $25 per employee

The AWARDS process is simple...

1) Review Employee Accomplishments

Each month the manager reviews the employees' accomplishments.

2) Select Relevant Awards

After reviewing what was done in the month, the manager chooses those accomplishments that deserve recognition and selects the AWARDS Award Card that matches the accomplishment.

Once a Month... for Long-Lasting Motivation

AWARDS is not a one-time activity.

Each AWARDS Kit has enough material to sustain a departmental recognition program for over a full year with little to no additional cost in terms of time and resource. As your department goals and department focus change, so can your awards – at minimal cost.

Use AWARDS to:

- ✓ Keep employees focused on those activities that support your internal goals
- ✓ Provide sustained interest and motivation during times of change as well as times of stability
- ✓ Show employees that their actions and successes are noticed and appreciated
- ✓ Build up to a larger, company-wide incentive program with rewards attached
- ✓ Keep track of employee accomplishments throughout the year
- ✓ Provide supporting documentation for annual performance reviews and promotions

Select from a range of Pre-Configured Kits that support common activities found in all organizations today.

Should the Pre-Configured Kits not meet the specific needs of your department or organization, Custom Kits can be assembled from a wide variety of awards.

Each AWARDS Kit includes:

- ✓ 400 Award Cards (20 of each award)
- ✓ 20 Employee Certificates of Excellence
- ✓ 20 Employee Log Sheets

3) Log Awards

The manager logs the awards in the Employee Log Sheets, which serve as a tracking vehicle and reference documents.

4) Present Awards

During a staff meeting or individually, the manager presents the employee with the award, giving a short description of the accomplishment and why it is important to the organization.
